

Swedish Scavenger Hunt

HOW MANY CAN YOU FIND?

1. On top of two businesses a wind vane does spin. And spin it does often in the fine Kansas wind! What are these businesses?
2. At 112 N. Main you will find a painting "Take Flight." Head there and find out which artist painted this fine sight.
3. One day in June is the longest of the year. A tile on City Hall highlights this day of great cheer! What holiday is traditionally celebrated on June 21st?
4. The Hemslöjd's large Dala would like a picture with you. Hurry up and go find it without further ado.
5. You'd go here to have a beer with your mate. But how does Öl Stuga directly translate?
6. The Blacksmith Shop is the oldest building downtown. In what year was it built, and what does it house now?
7. The White Peacock Coffee Shop sells coffee and tea. Have you gone out the back door? What did you see?
8. South of City Hall is a delightful small park. For whom is it named, and who symbolizes the opposite of dark?
9. The Swedes always love a good springtime read. Translate the word "Library" to Swedish to be done with this deed.
10. In front of Anderson's Butik a Dala horse stands. What royal coffee does he demand?
